

Rick Bloom

Partner | Attorney | CPA | Financial Advisor

Rick Bloom is a nationally recognized financial expert, attorney, CPA, and co-founder of Bloom Advisors. With over 40 years of experience, Rick has provided trusted financial advice to thousands of individuals and families. His deep expertise across law, tax, and financial planning has made him a respected authority in the industry.

In addition to being a longtime columnist and radio host, Rick is a frequent guest on Detroit's Channel 7 (WXYZ-TV), where he shares practical insights on personal finance, investing, and economic trends. He was the host of Money Talk on WXYT for over 16 years, the longest-running financial talk show in Detroit radio history and has been a featured columnist in publications including the Detroit News and Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. He also served as Executive in Residence and was a member of the Industry Advisory Board at Lawrence Technological University, sharing his real-world experience with the next generation of professionals.

Throughout his career, Rick and his firm have earned widespread national recognition, including being named a Barron's Top Financial Advisor (2015–2022), one of Worth Magazine's Top 250 Wealth Advisors, a member of the CNBC Financial Advisor Top 100 list for 2023, and most recently, one of Forbes' Top Investment Firms in America for 2024.

He currently serves on the Fidelity Investment Advisory Council and, outside of work, enjoys spending time with his beloved dog, Jadah. Rick is an honors graduate of both Michigan State University and the University of Michigan Law School
